

Janet Dankert

Janet Dankert has a bachelor's degree from Emory & Henry College and 30+ years of experience in non-profit management and leadership. She is currently the President/CEO for Community Partnership of the Ozarks (CPO), a 501c3 non-profit organization in Springfield, MO with 70 full and part-time staff members and an annual budget of more than $10 million. In this position, she provides executive leadership and support to a 36-member board of directors, executive committee, and three other board committees. Janet also provides leadership at the state level as Chair of the Missouri Partnership Network (MPN), a network of 20 Missouri Community Partnerships.

Before moving to Missouri, she directed a children's health program in the Appalachian region of Southwest Virginia and also worked as a Child Watch Consultant for the Children's Defense Fund, providing training about the Child Watch program to communities across the country.

A graduate of Leadership Springfield Class 27, she was also named one of Springfield's 20 Most Influential Women in 2015. She is currently a board member and/or volunteer with United Way of the Ozarks, Greene County Family Justice Center, Good Community Committee, Healthy Living Alliance Advisory Board, and GFWC Sorosis Club of Springfield.

She has been married to her husband, Herb, for 38 years, and they have three grown sons and one granddaughter.
