

Sherry Coker

Sherry Coker is currently the Organizational Development Advisor at Ollis Akers Arney, a role she began in August 2025. With over 18 years of expertise in workforce development and training from her time at Ozarks Technical Community College, Sherry brings a wealth of experience to support organizational transformation through effective workforce education, training, and coaching. Her dedication to professional growth has enabled employees at all levels to acquire critical skills for success. Her efforts have empowered employees at all levels with essential skills for success, and her passion shines through in her presentations at conferences and seminars.

Sherry co-founded the Springfield Tech Council in 2019 to promote technology talent in Springfield, Missouri, and is also involved with the Greater Missouri Leadership Foundation. Sherry is actively involved with her church at St. Peter's Evangelical UCC in Billings, Missouri. She resides in Republic, Missouri with her husband Joe, and they have three adult children. In her free time, Sherry enjoys spending time with family and friends, running, reading, and making cards.

